Mr. Guy Watts has sold his interest in the Pageland Garage, and has accepted a position in the mechanical department of the Redfearn Auto company. Mr. W. D. Sanders, who has had an interest in the Pageland Garage for several months, will continue the business at the same place.

Mr. R. F. Smith has sold a 75-acre tract of land near the State line north of Pageland to Mr. L. B. King of the Matthews section of Mecklenburg county. Mr. King will move to this farm next fall. Mr. Smith has moved back to Pageland and now occupies the P. H. Evans house in the eastern part of town.

Mr. J. D. Falkenburg, son of Mrs. H. H. Evans, and Miss Della Moree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Moree, were married at the home of Mr. H. H. Evans Sunday morning about 9:30 by Magistrate G. M. Rodgers. These are deserving young people, and they have the best wishes of a great many friends.

The contract to rebuild the Threath bridge over Lynches river was awarded last Wednesday to Mr. S. M. Jordan. This bridge is 368 feet long, and about 40 feet high over the main part of the river. It is to be constructed of long leaf heart pine lumber throughout, and Mr. Jordan has 45 days in which to complete the work. The price for job is $1225, one-half of which is to be paid by Lancaster county. This is the longest wood bridge in the county.

Mrs. Kate Rayfield, widow of the late Mr. John Rayfield, died at her home in the Salem community yesterday morning about 3 o'clock. She had been sick for several months but was not thought to be in a critical condition until Monday night a short time before her death. She was about 61 years old, and had been a member of Salem Presbyterian church for many years. She was a Christian and a good woman. There are fourteen children, ten sons and four daughters. The funeral will be conducted at Antioch church this afternoon about 3 o'clock by the pastor of the deceased, Rev. A. J. Crane.

Mrs. Eleanor Knight, widow of the late W. H. Knight, died near Angelus last Thursday, August 10th, age about 75 years. She was the oldest daughter of the late Esq. and Mrs. Edward Clark, and is survived by 9 children and 3 brothers. The sons are E. R., R. A., J. A., W. H., D. W. and T. J. Knight. The daughters are Mrs. J. B. Cato of Kershaw, Mrs. B. J. Douglass of Chesterfield, Mrs. J. C. Jowers of Angelus. The brothers are E. C., W. A., and J. M. Clark. The body was buried at Fork Creek on Friday, the funeral being conducted by Revs. J. A. and A. W. White of Jefferson. Mrs. Knight had been a member of Fork Creek church for about 50 years. She was a noble hearted Christian lady, who was loved and admired by nearly every one who knew her. Her death is a loss to the community in which she had lived and labored.

Tomorrow is the State campaign date for Chesterfield. The candidates for governor and other State officers will be there. Two ball games are scheduled to be played between Chesterfield and Wadesboro, one at 10 a. m. and one at 4 p. m.

An anti typhoid campaign has been on in Union county several weeks, and the people have been given the antitoxin free of cost, the expense being paid by the State. Thousands have been given this treatment, and a very noticeable decrease in the number of cases of typhoid is expected to result.

Special trains will be operated on the C. & L. road tomorrow for the accommodation of those who desire to attend the campaign meeting at Chesterfield. The train is scheduled to leave Pageland at 8:10 a. m., and returning leave Chesterfield at 4 o'clock. The round-trip fare is 75c from Pageland; Guess 55c; Mt. Croghan 30c; Ruby 25c; Cheraw 50c.

Mr. C. Parker, of Murfreesboro, Ark., spent Thursday night and part of Friday here with relatives. Mr. Parker had been visiting relatives in Union county for more than a month, and was making his way to Georgia where he will spend several months. He moved from Union county many years ago, but he is known by a great many people in the county, as he visits there every few years. His children are all of age and he spends a good part of his time visiting.

Two revivals are in progress here this week, one at Rose Hill church in which Rev. J. R. Hutton, of Greensboro, is doing some splendid preaching, and one at the Baptist church where Rev. D. P. Montgomery, of Blue Mountain, Miss., is doing the preaching. His three sons are with him as singers and helpers. The services at Rose Hill are at 11 and 4, and those at the Baptist church at 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. Mr. Montgomery preaches at Dudley at 11 a. m. each day also. These meetings have started off nicely, and the prospects for a great revival are good.

Mr. W. J. Hicks last Wednesday secured the contract to rebuild the bridge over Lynches river at Cooke's mill, the price being four hundred dollars. This bridge is 154 feet long. The new bridge will be several feet lower than the old one, but will be anchored by wire cables, and the mud sills are to be placed on bed rock and pinned to the rock. It is to be constructed of material from the old bridge at that place and one a few miles further down the river, as this material is said to be in excellent condition. The recent high waters filled in the river at this place several feet in sand, and cofferdams will have to be built to place the mud sills. Mr. Hicks has 30 days in which to build the bridge. Lancaster and Chesterfield counties pay one half each.

The late Booker T. Washington used to tell this story: He said in one of the black counties of Southern Mississippi a meeting was held in the city hall at the county seat for the purpose of organizing a movement to encourage the emigration from the North of desirable skilled labor. As one of the promoters of the plan was leaving the building after the gathering had adjourned, he was halted by an aged darkey of his acquaintance.

"Kunnel," inquired the old man, "whut you-all been doin' in thar to-night?"

"We're trying to work up a scheme to bring more white people down here," explained the gentleman. "What do you think of the idea, Uncle Zach?"

"W'y, boss," said Zach, "dey's already mo' white folks in dis county dan us niggers kin suppo't."

Down in Kentucky is a self-made man who has acquired a considerable fortune in the building and renting of small cottages. Most of his building operations are personally superintended by the owner.

One day not so very long ago he was watching a gang of workmen as they put the finishing touches upon a couple of dwellings, when a citizen happened along and halted to view the progress of the work.

"Uncle Mike," he inquired of the capitalist, "how do you aim to finish up the walls inside?"

"Same as I always do," stated the proprietor. "I leave 'em like they are now till the plaster in' gits dirty, and then paper 'em."

"I should think you would paint the walls at the beginning," said the other man. "You know they say germs breed behind wall paper."

Ruby News Items

Ruby, Aug. 15.—Mr. Charlie Jordan died at his home five miles south of Ruby Thursday night of typhoid and dropsy, after an illness of 4 weeks. Mr. Jordan was about 38 years old, and was a member of Cross Roads church, and a Christian gentleman. He was a dutiful son, a good husband and a friend to all. The body was laid to rest at Cross Roads Friday, funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. D. Purvis.
